

Bringing Picture Books to Life

About the Training

This training session combines practical activities with best-practice academic research to support practitioners to bring picture books to life with children aged 3 to 5 years old.

Course Aims and Objectives

The variety of activities and information included in this course are designed to:

- Boost practitioner confidence with sharing picture books with groups of children
- Improve understanding of how to use the voice to engage parents and children
- Help practitioners consider different kinds of picture books and how these impact on various aspects of a child's language and literacy development
- Encourage practitioners to extend or embellish familiar stories
- Explain the difference between storytelling and reading aloud

Eligibility Criteria

Delegates must be both:

- working with groups of children aged 3-5 years
- Wanting to develop the way they read aloud with children
