

Reference it!

Creating a bibliography? Here are some examples to help you.

Book with one author

Moore, H. (2009) The story behind oil. London: Heinemann Library

Book with two or more authors

Hartman, E. et. A. (2010) Fossil fuels. London : Raintree

Chapter in a book

Franklin, A. W. (2002) 'Management of the problem', in Smith, S. M. (ed.) The maltreatment of children. Lancaster: MPT, pp. 83-95.

Reference books

Beal, P. (2009) 'Folio', A dictionary of English manuscript terminology: 1450 to 2000. Oxford: Oxford University Press.

Article in a journal or magazine

Strachan, D. (2009) 'Scraping the bottom of the barrel', New Scientist. 5 December, pp. 34-39.

Newspaper article

Farquhar, G. (2010) 'Falklands' oil potential generates great expectations in the City', Press & Journal (Aberdeenshire edn.), 10 February, p. 19.

Websites

BP (2010) BP at a glance. Available at:
<http://www.bp.com/sectiongenericarticle.do?categoryId=3&contentId=2006926> (Accessed: 10 February 2010).

Photographs

Bailey, P. (1996) Snow scene [Photograph]. Sunderland: Centre for Visual Effects

TV programmes

Little Britain (2005) BBC 2 Television, 23 June.

Radio Broadcasts

Today (2009) BBC Radio 4, 15 August.

Interviews

Blair, A. (2003) Interviewed by Jeremy Paxman for Newsnight, BBC 2 Television, 2 February.

Emails

Smith, J. (2010) E-mail to William Black, 11 February.