

Advert

Clark Contracts are keen to offer and develop opportunities for young people in the East Lothian area. As part of their 2016 apprenticeship programme they have agreed to employ 2 joinery apprentices from the East Lothian area who meet their specific requirements.

Founded in 1978 as a specialist joinery company, Clark Contracts Ltd is a privately owned construction, refurbishment and maintenance main contractor with offices in the East and West of Scotland. Delivering contracts up to £10m in value across 4 divisions; Construction, Fit Out, Small Works and Maintenance, Clark Contracts employs over 200 staff.

Applicants must:

- Reside in East Lothian
- meet the essential criteria listed on the person specification
- be able to demonstrate the skills and abilities detailed on the job specification.
- Provide proof of relevant essential qualifications
- Be 16 years of age by July 2016

Candidate

To be considered for this position the candidate should

- Have good numeracy and literacy skills
- Have excellent communication skills
- Be IT literate
- Be able to work under pressure

Each apprentice will be paid in accordance with the CITB Modern Apprenticeship Scheme. This will increase each year of the remaining 3 years. Apprentices will be expected to undertake appropriate training and study in order to achieve qualifications relevant to their trade.

Students interested in applying should forward their CV along with any additional information they feel might support their application to Marjorie Benn at East Lothian Works, East Lothian Council. Please refer to the attached timetable which lists all stages of the recruitment process.

Read more about Clark Contracts at www.clarkcontracts.com.

